Create an Environmental Print Book

What is an environmental print book? This type of book uses the signs, logos and symbols that children see everyday and recognize without being able to read them. For example, the Golden Arches or a stop sign.

What you need:

Newspapers, magazines or pictures of signs, logos and symbols

Scissors

Glue

Paper stapled together like a book

Help your child cut out familiar logos and symbols.

Paste one of each logo or symbol to a page.

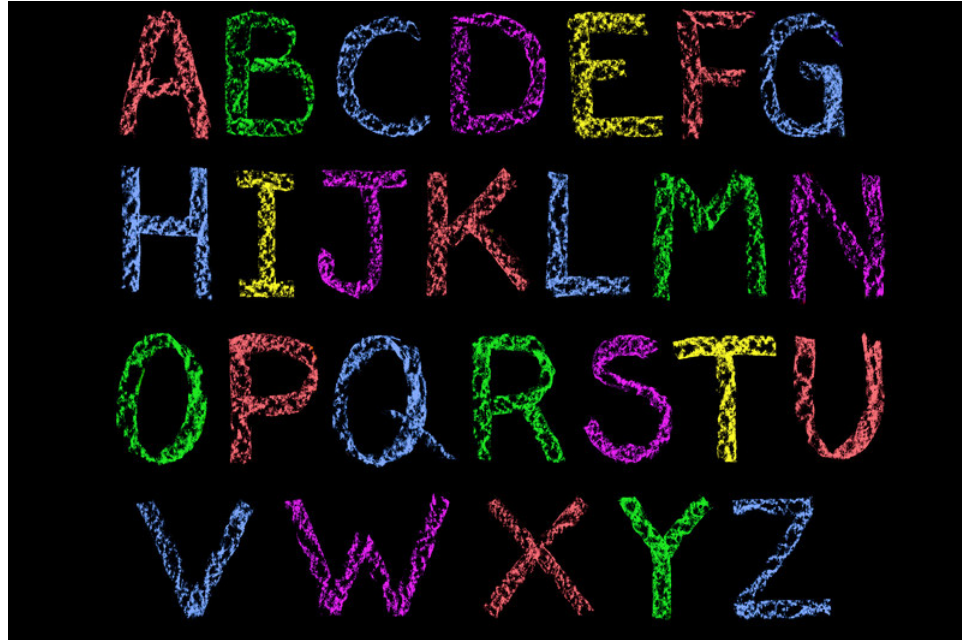

Have your child “read” the book to you

Glue Letters

Make letters out of glue and let your child practice tracing and saying the letter out loud.

What you need:
White or glitter glue
Paper

Make letters on the paper using the white glue (you will need dark paper) or the glitter glue. Once the glue dries ask your child to trace the letters and tell you which letter it is. Ask them to repeat but this time tell you what sound the letter makes.
